Frank Abt's Companion at Dinner.
Frank Abt, the famous composer, was standing here one afternoon in his study when he met a friend, who said to him:
"You seem very happy, dear fellow. Have you heard any good news?"
"Well, yes, I've just taken dinner," was the reply.
"You evidently enjoyed it. What did you have to eat?" continued the friend.
"A turkey," replied Abt.
"And how many were at table?" asked the other.
"There were only two of us," said Abt.
"Who was your companion?" inquired the friend.
"The turkey," replied Abt.

Men With Beards.
What a vast difference there is between one beard and another! There is the long, thick, dark beard, broad and dark, which the owner caresses as if it were an infant. Men with such beards rarely have any other men. Can you imagine a Venetian doge or a member of the council of ten without a beard? I cannot. If you have seen a man of mark fondle his long beard during the processes of reflection you will be apt to wonder whether or not his mind would lose its equilibrium if he were in the night to be shaven clean.—All the Year Round.

Grocers Who Dressed in Colors.
In the early part of the fifteenth century it is recorded that the "grocers" guild appeared in livery of scarlet and green. A few years later scarlet and black was adopted. Funeral services of deceased members were attended with much show of pageantry. At the burial of Sir Philip Sidney, who was a member of the grocers' guild, his worship the mayor, aldermen and other civic officials were present, "tyndure in purple."—London Telegraph.

Irate Wife.—That's the fifty-second falsehood you've told me this week. Unhappily, I'm sure. Well, now, you can see what is meant by the expression "a pack of lies."—Pittsburgh Post.

One Reason.
"Why should women be cooks in stead of authors?" asks a Chicago woman's club leader. Well, for one reason it is more profitable.—Washington Post.

In Prussia the price of medicine is regulated by the state, a new price list being published every year.

cinnati, are among the recent arrivals at the Hotel Despland.

J. M. Streety and R. W. Hlydenburg, rivals at Schmidt's Villa.

This afternoon's arrivals were quite heavy. Many of the visitors went to the beach, where they secured accommodations.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Gordon, of Hazards-ville, Conn., were among the arrivals in Daytona last night. They are stopping at the Hotel Despland.

J. W. Scott, a veteran angler, has arrived in the city from the North to spend the season. He is making the Troy House his headquarters.

Local Happenings.

W. M. Bellamy, of Port Orange, spent yesterday in the city.

Mrs. Robert I. Wall, left this afternoon for Isle of Pines, Cuba, to join Mr.
Wall and other members of their party.

Roland Hardy, of St. Augustine, who has been here for several days in the employ of the Southern Express Company, has returned to his home.

An Oldsmobile machine for W.
Farmer, of Terre Haute, Ind., arrived in the city a few days ago, being in transit for nearly three weeks. To-day, while driving on Beach Street, he broke one of the springs of the machine, which will necessitate some repairs being made.

A small shetland pony driven by a little boy and girl, ran away yesterday afternoon on Ridgewood avenue, throwing both out with violent force. They were picked up and found to be badly shaken. The little girl bled some at the mouth, but her injuries are not serious.

K. F. Sutherland, who owns a pretty piece of property on Ridgewood near Fairview avenue, is making improvements to the place, and has a large force of men cutting out a large tree from the sidewalk today preparatory to putting down a cement walk. As soon as the walk is laid, Mr. Sutherland will let the contract for a two story frame dwelling with a cellar. He hopes to have the place finished some time during the winter.

The Christmas Triumph

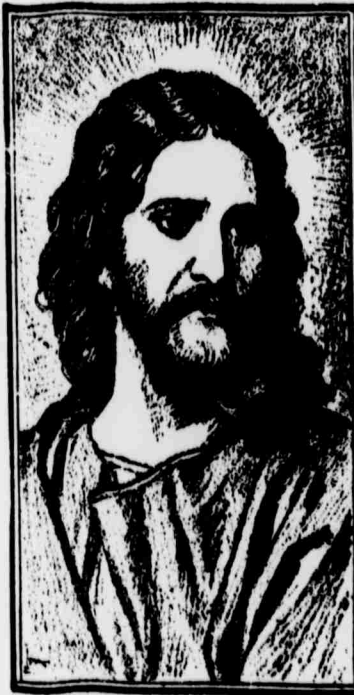

By GEORGE LAY LAW

AFTER a little over 1500 years from the birth of its founder Christmas has become the most generally observed religious holiday on earth. There is scarcely a land beneath the sun that does not witness some celebration of the day set apart to commemorate the birth of the Carpenter of Nazareth.
While in many Asiatic countries few participate in these celebrations, they are yet enough so that all peoples are learning the significance of the ceremony. Then, too, the number of actual participants is increasing year by year, so that it takes no very great stretch of the imagination to picture a time when Christmas observances will be practically universal.

The charge of the Master to carry his gospel to all the world has been religiously obeyed, and the prophecy of the thousand years of peace which were to follow came so that consummation should be on its way. Of the six contents Christianity eagerly conquers four and is rapidly winning its way in the other two. Both North and South America are Christian in every part.
The same is true of Australia and the surrounding islands constituting Australia. All Europe follows the same faith, with the single exception of the southeastern corner belonging to Turkey, and even a considerable part of the Turkish empire, including Armenia, Bulgaria and others of the Balkan states, embraces Christianity, while Christian missions exist in Turkey.

In Africa, where the British govern Egypt and all South Africa, while France has virtual control of Morocco and other European powers have colonies throughout the continent, the faith of the Nazarene has a larger following than any other religion.

Asia, teeming with its vast Chinese and Hindu hordes, is practically the only continent in which Christianity is not the dominant faith, and even here it has incalculable political and strategic advantages that are rapidly working a transformation. Siberia, occupying nearly half of the entire continent, is ruled by a Christian power. India, on the south, is under the control of England, and the missionaries are gradually winning their way. Tibet, the stronghold of Buddhism, is under Russian influence and is being invaded by England from India, Palestine, Syria and Persia contain important Christian missions, though as nations they are still under Moslem control.
The Boxer uprising was practically the last gasp of the virulent opposition to the advance of Christianity in China.
The lesson received from Europe at that time, the important concessions granted in the chief ports to the great Christian powers, the invasion of Man-

HOFMAN'S HEAD OF CHRIST.

churia, the introduction of the railroad and the ever increasing numbers of missionaries, all of these things are gradually working a change in the Chinese empire. Mission work is rapidly increasing in Korea. Japan has borrowed most of her civilization from Christian nations and is seriously discussing the proposition of adopting their religion also. The Philippines belong to America, and a considerable portion has been Christianized.

Christmas morn in the year of our Lord 1905 will therefore have a meaning to more nations and more people than any previous Christmas morn in the history of mankind. The fact that this day will be celebrated by such widely variant types and in such widely separated nations gives a powerful suggestion of unity in the human race.

Mrs. Elizabeth Silvernail is expected in the city the latter part of next week from Dana Hall, Wesley, Mass., to spend the holidays with her mother.
